

Love

What is love?
Is it something that you can
See, feel, or even taste?
What could love be, I ask myself?
Is it the way you feel about
Someone or something
Or is it something that you do
With other people on the weekends?
I believe love is the way
Your emotions are when
You are close to someone
That you care dearly about.

13 December 1993